KILLING THE INCENTIVE

Confidence, political power, the Canadian Throne, say persons in the business world, has become a liability, not an asset, and that the return to property depends upon tax reductions.

That is stating the case in strong terms. But it is nevertheless the case in the United States, to cause many to wonder if it is not so. When people feel that property is valueless, even if that is not a fact, there is little use expecting them to take a confident view of the future. And when they do not, they are bound for the state rather than for themselves as they are not likely to develop enterprise.

But those are the two qualities, confidence and enterprise, upon which property can be built, and which the U.S. does not and never can exist. Tax reduction would stimulate both qualities as excessive taxation destroys both.

PRACTICABLE AND WORTH WHILE

Reporting on the proposal to allow taxpayers a deduction for the pre-payment of taxes, the City Auditor said:

"Assuming that the date in 1934 would be the same as for this year, to allow interest at five per cent from January 1 to the various due dates will be equal to allowing the taxpayer a discount of 3 1/2 per cent on his taxes. This is the reason that we make sufficient appeal to result in a considerable prepayment of taxes and at the same time we are giving the taxpayer the benefit instead of the bank. In working out the plan the City Auditor has been most helpful. We are not anxious to have an amendment to the act, but an amendment not exceeding the 1932 levy and to issue a payment receipt covering the amount paid. This amount would then be credited on the roll after the new tax bill is sent out. This would enable us to make the necessary adjustments in refuge for overpayments or levies statements for balance still due."

That is a reasoned statement of the case, and deserves any notice and the practical proposal is practicable or would surely complicate the keeping of the accounts. It shows that the plan is entirely practicable, reasonably convenient, and would offer a substantial inducement to the taxpayer to pay his taxes earlier.

The point is that nobody looks advantage of the discount offer the city would be in no worse position than at present would borrow the required money from the bank and the taxes came in as a result of the bank loan. In this case, and not excepting those of the present year, there would be no possibility of money coming in than was required, and no possibility that the discount would not be given.

The advantage, and it is an important one in the present circumstances, is that the taxpayer would be encouraged to meet his tax bill as early as possible, save the interest he now has to pay on his taxes, and keep his property owned by him.

MORE "ELIMINATION"

President Beatty of the C.P.R. declined to comment on the report of the Senate Committee on communications, but he had an opportunity to read and study the document. The example is a good one, and others may well refrain from rushing in where the C.P.R. has tread. The report is a good one.

Only a summary has been given out, which may be supposed to be the more important recommendations made. This is accompanied by a statement from President Beatty as to legitimate ways of dealing with the report, and the committee will be interested to give effect to these findings. From the summary and the statement the public may gather a dim but perhaps accurate outline of the views the commissioners had in mind. It is not the place to go into detail as far as the Government intends to carry the scheme into operation.

The Premier states that the National Railways system is to be taken over by the Canadian government, and that the C.P.R. and the Canadian are amalgamated with the C.P.R. and being so amalgamated. The Commission proposes, however, that the "trustees" of the National and the directors of the C.P.R. shall meet regularly for consultation on all financial measures and policies, and that where they fail to agree a board of arbitration shall be set up to settle the point. The effect would in practice be similar to that of interlocking directorates. By availing himself of the services of a board of arbitration, the C.P.R. would be financially responsible for the C.P.R. and the shareholders for the finances of the C.P.R.

The second change announced by the Premier is that the Government is to assume control over the finances of the National system, and "take measures" to reduce and eventually wipe out the operating deficit. This is in line with the Commission's recommendations, and the bill will be voted by parliament, and not raised by issuing securities against the future earnings of the system. Which seems to mean that the National is to be brought directly under control of the Government, and operated more or less as the Intercolonial was a quarter of a century ago.

The third objective, the Premier says, is "the termination of the era of progressive and unprofitable competition between the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway." This the summary indicates, is in the beginning and end of the Commission's report. Every paragraph of the report, however, looks like a battle cry, a raiding competition, and admonitions to "eliminate" the ruinous "water." Had this advice been rendered four or five years ago it would have been profitable. As man is not perfect, it is here to make sure that the termination of the war between the National will not be running trains enough to keep the rails polished.

Emotions Bared In 25 Queries To Swami Mar-Veill

Bulletin Readers Availing
Selves of Opportunity to Get Horoscope

Today's answers to questions by 25 Bulletin readers are the result of a series of 25 questions and 25 horoscopes by the astrologer. Those who have availed themselves of the service are gratified with the astrologer's praise for his exceptional knowledge and gift of prophecy. The question for which the answer is not one the applicant wants to hear, Swami Mar-Veill says, is one that obvious answers are not given.

Of course there are some puzzles take a few days to solve. A man who sent in a copy of his horoscope asked a question just what would be experienced.

FRIDAY WARNING

Speaking of puzzles despite an every day warning, some folks are sending in just one query when there are two or three. The reason for this is that the use of the Saturday coupon alone. This coupon, as pointed out recently, is good for a personal interview. There are only a few days left at the Bulletin business office before the 25 horoscopes received daily will enter the 25th day of the personal interview without further ado.

And there still remains a third way in which a reading may be obtained. That is by sending the astrologer's brochure on Preceptive Utterances. Owners of this piece of literature will be asked to read it free if they desire to do so.

All of this is meant to be service to the Bulletin reader.

Again the Swami produces a lame-duck of another prominent man, that is to say,

RICHARD GAVIN REED

Here is another native of the patriotic signs Capricorn and Aquarius. The guard holds his sun and Moon in the same laterals of the two. Fortunes—Jupiter and Venus are in the same sign, very high goals in life, backed up by the ability to rise and achieve. Success is the name of the game pronounced. The mind is deep and methodical—logical.

Our horoscope subject comes under the Fixed Star classification, denoting great determination, fixedness, and persistence. This he needs to be shown. He deems with facts not phantasy. Since he is a man of the world, he is logical. It makes him a good valuator.

Mercury, Neptune, and Uranus form a triple conjunction, easily earthly triplex. This denotes most remarkable mental faculties, giving him a wide range of knowledge. He draws with equal facility from both the objective and subjective sources of knowledge. His memory should be remarkable. He is a man of the world, but his facility in handling large sums. In fact he dislikes smallness and trifles.

FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Jupiter and Venus promise him great financial success and the rise to positions of high responsibility. Through this configuration is also engendered that vast plenitude of energy and far-reaching effects. He wants to be a vital factor in promoting the common good.

The influences of the present and near future bring him to the front, and in the same thoughts and talents that give promise of much importance hold his personal as well as political position.

Out of the 25 the mail received yesterday, and there seems no statement in size of this mail daily—there are 25 horoscopes to be sure. Twenty-five persons were asked.

Twenty-five persons were asked today perhaps that which they were asked yesterday, and of them will read what they dressed to know. Anyway, here are

Friday's Answers

MRS. K. D.—The indications are that you marry very early in your career, and that you will be the most important factor in your husband's dreams of success.

MR. H. G.—You sent in a Saturday query, and I will not be asked on what do you expect?

MRS. V. W.—You are probably in the middle of a radical step now. Your folks will not receive you as anticipated.

MR. J. H.—Yes, you will return and come close to the third time.

MR. A.—Your contemplated venture in England promises very poor success.

MR. D.—I would say you are in the same sense as to true you. In the same sense as you are to her. Decide for your self.

MISS S. D.—Continue in your present position.

MRS. G. C.—Consult an ornithologist. It will forestall all operations.

At a full executive meeting of officers and superintendents of Centres, the Rev. W. C. T. U. was the guest of Mrs. J. H. Stuck, social convenor, certain publications were subjected to certain criticisms, and recommendations were prepared to the executive for action. The convention, protesting against such unwholesome and anti-social games, was held upon city streets. One of the most feature of these games was felt to be that boys of tender years were led to believe that the morals of the girls, while the slender group and slender in some of them were by no means fit masters for them. It was felt to be regrettable that Canada should permit such improper literature to be published.

Other matters discussed by the executive were Sunday School, for which a new ready, and in the interest of the Centres, the W.C.T.U. and other interested groups, and which has been an important part of the work of the Centres for three years, the decision to give the social hygiene superintendent a place in the regular meeting, with the regular meeting, will be held in the Baptist Church, and probably be held in McDougall Church, and the sale of tickets for the tea and sale of cooking at Mrs. George Wilson's home, and the sale of tickets for the tea and sale of cooking in Calgary.

You feel dowdy? The secret of fashion success is an open one with the New Bulletin's "Inside Story of Fall Fashions." Just off the press.

Even if you don't care much about this, there's nothing to it. When you get the correct and simple directions for getting the latest in quality and at low prices can be had in any of the shops, so choose your favorite and get it. Write the Bulletin pattern department giving your style and 20 names to have "The Fashion World" done for you.

DULL SURFACE FABRICS GOOD

Part hints that dull surface fabrics will be good this year, rough crepe silk are popular, and satins fine. The Bulletin's "Inside Story" silk with satin finish on one side can be used in combination to give that well-dressed appearance. But when you see the new "Fashion World" gives all the proper details of color combination and style.

Never seen the new sleeves tucked and puffed, the crepe silk with the flattery has hit the turn back reverse on fabric frocks! The new "Inside Story" has the most becoming color for your especial type and that invaluable book tells you the colors which will be most flattering to your figure.

FOR THE BRIDE-ALICE

If you are a bride-to-be and long for all sorts of delicate feminine undress for your trouousse, see how easy it is to make them. When you have to consider the bride's dress to be worn in the kitchen and the dining room that will quite cover up all the good points of the girl to make tea, read "The Fashion World" and you will know just how to wear "In your kitchen and in your kitchen." Try making a wolly frock for the kitchen and a tailored coat for your sturdy small maid in service. You can even make your own Christian Dior style in the "Fashion World" to tell you how.

A keen sense of fair play is one of the best things I know. It's a young couple through the course of true love that never will run smooth.

If the girl expects the man always to give in to her whims, to be perfectly satisfied with what she feels like flitting with, then she expects him always to be at her beck and call. She expects him to be her gallant knight, her hero, her hero, her knight in shining armor, getting to a terrible awakening.

She has however, a young man may be usually will be in the most beautiful and he will rebel. And if the girl only counts on getting the girl of his dreams on earth and he cannot live without her—and then continually goes out with other girls—just forget it. Girls and women who have gone through this know that they have outlived it and are living happy lives. So cheer up, girls, and don't let your shine again and you may yet be happy.

PUZZLED W. F. H.: No! I would hardly consider a boy "steady" even if he did ask me to go, too because I knew I knew about his being a date with another girl. I'm not manly hereafter, but don't go out of your way to be nice to him.

Be Necessary to Keep up
Reduction Long

MONTRÉAL, Sept. 22.—On October 1 salary reductions will be effected among all the higher officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway. According to an official statement issued yesterday, the president, directors and members of the executive committee will accept a cut of 15 per cent. General, general district, divisional and departmental officers will be lowered 10 per cent.

Hope was expressed by E. W. Beatty, president of the railway, that it is not necessary to continue the reduced rate for too long a period and that the former salary scale will eventually be restored.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

The official statement follows:

"Canadian Pacific railway officers of the higher grades will on Oct. 1 accept a cut of 15 per cent. This has been decided upon as necessary by the president and board of directors. The cut is in accordance with the arrangement the president, directors and members of the executive committee have accepted a cut of 15 per cent, while in the case of all general, district, division and departmental officers, the reduction will be 10 per cent."

PERSONAL LETTER

In a personal letter to those affected Mr. Beatty draws attention to the need for this cut in order to get rid of the reduction.

"At the same time it points out that the salaries of the company's officers and staff have been reduced, and this has been disproportionate to their responsibilities or to the importance of the position. It is felt, however, that the compensation which the company could afford to pay under existing conditions is not so great which it could pay with earnings as low as they now were."

Agricultural Schools
Re-open In October

Schools of agriculture at both Galt and Waterloo will be opened during the month of October, which will start in the latter half of the month according to announcement made yesterday by Hon. George Headley, minister of agriculture.

There had been consideration given to opening only one of the schools, but the minister decided an unexpectedly heavy number of applications it was deemed advisable to open both.

While the government said it would be sending every effort toward securing a full complement of expenditure, it was felt that with so many applications for entrance to the schools, it was necessary to economy not to give them every opportunity to obtain a further education in agriculture.

And while conferring with the schools, the minister decided to yet give the students every opportunity for gaining education the government would be sending the schools with the same personnel in teaching staff, but with the introduction of economy in salaries.

BRITISH PRESS APPROVES RAIL BODY FINDINGS

Thinks Canada Has Too Many Railways for Pre- sent Population

LONGFIELD, Sept. 22.—President of the royal commission on the Canadian railway situation "appear to offer a well-balanced solution to the immediate problem," declares James L. Harris, minister of transport, in a statement to the press.

The post contends, however, the root of Canada's railway troubles is the result of the lack of co-operation between the government and the medical profession. Physicians and surgeons are asked to work with the government at all times to co-operate with the government with a view to solving any difficulties arising out of the present situation.

Mr. Laycock made a well-arranged speech in which he paid tribute to the service given by the guest of honor during his time with the railroads.

Mr. Harris plans to take up residence at Colinton, Alta., following his retirement.

The financial news says the regattas are to be held in Britain as confering no benefit to the Canadian Pacific Railways "but seems to bolster the Canadian government's case for the railroads system as a whole."

And while conferring with the association, the minister decided to yet give the students every opportunity for gaining education the government would be sending the schools with the same personnel in teaching staff, but with the introduction of economy in salaries.

Lord Bessborough Will Recall Edmonton Every Time He Gets Hair Cut

He Doesn't Like Clippers and Nick Smith Only Barber That Know It

Now it can be told. Lord Bessborough, governor-general of Canada, left Edmonton with one thing in mind, and that is to use his own words. "It will become Edmonton every time I get my hair cut."

The vice-regal train was received at the Macleod Hotel in the early morning at 8 o'clock sharp. Nick Smith, the only barber that was given the assignment, and on arrival was greeted by a score of men, was the only one to cut the Governor-General's hair.

And here's why Lord Bessborough will be recalled every time he gets a hair cut. When Nick Smith settled down to the task, he did not pick up his clippers, but instead he took out his straight razor and began to shave with the comb and scissors.

"Haven't you got any clippers?" asked Lord Bessborough.

"I have," said Nick Smith, "but I have heard you don't like them." "I have," said the Governor-General.

"Nick, you are quite right. I don't like them. I don't like them at all. I think that the clippers hair look like a primped hair cut, but I like a natural hair cut. I have heard that you have tried to start cutting off my hair by using clippers, and I'll never let you do that again."

Lord Bessborough said that every time he got a hair cut, he would be recalled.

NICK WAS RIGHT

"Well, you're quite right. I don't like them. I don't like them at all. I think that the clippers hair look like a primped hair cut, but I like a natural hair cut. I have heard that you have tried to start cutting off my hair by using clippers, and I'll never let you do that again."
